APRIL EVENT FEATURES PALM SUNDAY MUSIC & PRAYER

Our April Chapter event takes place Palm Sunday, April 4 at 4:00pm, in St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, Dwight Rd., Springfield. The event is a celebration of Evening Prayer (Vespers) according to current Roman Catholic practice. While many variations in the structure can exist, the path of the celebration at St. Paul's will strive to strike a mid-point. This is not intended to be the perfect model, but rather an example of one possibility for celebrating Evening Prayer.

A Little Background

The Hebrew people practiced several systems of daily prayer and sacrificed in the temple both in the morning and evening. It would seem reasonable to assume that the early Christians, who were, after all, Jewish, would take along some of these practices to the new religion. There is evidence of regular patterns of prayer at morning, noon, and night among Christian communities as early as the third century. These "patterns of prayer" took many forms, but all involved the psalter and readings from both the Hebrew and Christian scriptures. Many included additional hours of the day and night. When schism came with the Protestant Revolution, the various break-away groups maintained their Catholic forms of prayer and eventually placed their own stamp on them, the most notable being Anglican Evensong.

Overall Structure

The liturgy for Sunday, 4 April will include an opening greeting and hymn, followed by an evening thanksgiving, two psalms with antiphons proper for the day, a New Testament Canticle, and finally a reading from scripture. A choral anthem will follow, then the singing of the Magnificat (Mary's Song of Praise). Schola will sing a setting composed by Leo Nestor of the Catholic University of America faculty, for the visit of John Paul II to St. Louis Cathedral in 1999. Then follow petitions for the community and a final prayer, blessing, and hymn. There will be both organ and choral preludes, and a choral postlude. As 4 April is Palm Sunday, Catholic Christians will have heard the reading of the passion as their Sunday gospel. As the antiphons to the psalms and canticles of Morning and Evening Prayer always relate the days scripture readings to our lives, Sunday's antiphons will relate events from Christ's passion to their salvific effects in our lives.

About Schola Nova

Schola Nova was founded in 1982 by Michael Dulac for the performance of sacred choral music. The name changed, in 1996, to Schola Nova. The group numbers about 16-18 singers of varying backgrounds, all members of whom are volunteers. Our current accompanist is Edith Gilbertson who will be retiring in June after 15 years with the group.

DEAN'S MESSAGE — March-April 2004

Immersed in considerable work pressure for the Easter season, as we all are, this hopes to be a shorter, simpler Dean's message: some news, some requests, no great philosophy. Welcome to Spring, and to better weather! First, two quick reviews—

Our Chapter's Pastor-Organist Dinner on March 15th was a great success at Grace Lutheran Church, West Springfield. My thanks to Martha Sienkiewicz for organizing the event, to Peter Beardsley for arranging for Dr. Horace Clarence Boyer's presence and participation, to Pastor Laurie Andersen and the people of Grace Lutheran for their warm and generous hospitality that evening, to the Grace Lutheran Women (and their spouses!) for preparing the excellent meal, and to the fifty-or-so Chapter members and friends who attended, including some very-welcome new faces. The hearty attendance was gratifying to the Chapter and very respectful of the great resource of and presentation by Horace Boyer. Dr. Boyer offered an engaging historical survey of both religion and music in this country, over the last two or three hundred years, to explain the evolution of African-American musical styles in worship. His usual manner of delivery, laced with humor, but pertinent to all, made for a totally enlightening, uplifting, and delightful evening. Thanks to everyone for a terrific gathering.

On Sunday, March 14th, at least six Springfield Chapter members appeared at Tom Murray's dedicatory recital on the new Schoenstein organ at the First Church of Christ in Glastonbury, Connecticut. Clearly, the new organ is a musical masterpiece and a great success in the room, as Tom Murray demonstrated so aptly. The decision to purchase and install a new pipe organ is a complex and demanding process, usually a once-in-a-lifetime one, for any congregation. It is an opportunity to bind people together for a common goal, and to bring members together for cooperation in planning and physical work to prepare for the instrument. These community efforts were present to the fullest in the Glastonbury project, which could serve as a model for any Church. I have asked Allen Langord to write his review of the Schoenstein organ, and of Tom Murray's presentation of it, so I'll simply commend you to Allen's insightful opinions on this project, which will be forthcoming shortly. A new organ, however, is always an exciting thing, and a cause for celebration, especially when of the outstanding quality and tonal palette as this Schoenstein. Congratulations to our colleagues in Connecticut!

April 1 marks the deadline to receive nominations from our membership for elected positions in this Chapter's leadership in the forthcoming elections. I am not aware that any additional nominations have surfaced, and I am somewhat disappointed by the difficulty that the Nominating Committee faced in trying to assemble an ample list of willing candidates. It's just that I have this strong personal wish to involve more, and new, people to grow the participation and activity in and of this Chapter, which I have written about before. If you are sitting in the background, debating about stepping forward, it is not too late to organize a write-in campaign for the Chapter election during the coming month. Please contact any Board member to offer your participation and support. Ballots will be mailed soon, so please be sure to express your choices in this election, and return your ballot as instructed once voting begins. Thank you for your attention to this important step in the life cycle of this Chapter, which does strive to serve the entire Pioneer Valley!

Becky Isaacson, Peter Beardsley, and Charles Page have been hard at work preparing music, rehearsal schedules, and organizing participation in the Chapter's Choral Festival that will occur on Sunday, May 16th at 3:00 PM at Christ Church Cathedral, Springfield. I'm writing about this program now to remind and encourage all of our membership that the Choir for this Festival will be made up of us, and of our Church Choirs, as any of them may choose to join the group. Now is the time (though just about the last chance) for any singer to enlist in the massed choir for the Festival, as more participants are still welcome. Please contact Becky, or Peter, or Charles, if you wish to sing in this group, and they will confirm with you the arrangements for music and rehearsals. You will enjoy this learning experience of doing the singing in a larger group, to high standards, under the entertaining command of Bruce McInnes. Sign up now!

On Friday, April 30th, Fred Swann will present an Organ Recital at St. Michael's Cathedral, Springfield. Our

AGO Chapter will be responsible for preparing the reception to follow. Perhaps, some different members would be interested to help us with that presentation? Please volunteer to any Board member, or respond willingly if asked to assist. We will appreciate your participation in this observance for our retiring National President.

As I prepare this month's column, the "Springfield Republican" newspaper has just published the obituary of Stanley F. Ziemienski of East Longmeadow, a long-time musician and retired serviceperson for pianos and organs. Stanley rebuilt and maintained pipe organs in numerous churches in western Massachusetts, but his magnum opus would probably be the removal, preservation, and later relocation into Mater Dolorosa R. C. Church, Holyoke, c.1972, of the Skinner Organ Co. Opus 209 of 1913, a 4-manual organ (retaining many ranks from the previous 1881 Steere organ) that had served Old First Church, Court Square, Springfield until its replacement there in 1958 by Æolian-Skinner Opus 1326. The memory of Stanley's work commitments lives on in Holyoke; rest in peace, Stanley.

This AGO Chapter's next event is the Vespers Service at St. Paul's Church, Dwight Road, Springfield, on Palm Sunday afternoon, April 4th, which will feature Schola Nova and make ample use of the excellent 1963 Casavant organ in that beautiful acoustical and worship space. There are more details of that event included in this newsletter. Please join us then for this fortifying gathering and for some social camaraderie as we prepare ourselves for the rigors of Holy Week. See you there!

Soli Deo Gloria,
Bill Czelusniak
Dean

CHAPTER MEMBERS STANDING FOR ELECTION

With chapter elections rapidly approaching, the Nominating Committee would like to give the constituency a chance to get to know the slate of possible electees for Board positions. The slate of officers (please see September 2003 issue for bios of current officers) remains intact from this year, but three board positions need to be filled. Below are the bios of our several hopefuls.

After 25 years away from the organ, Rod Gisick has come back with a vengeance. He's been studying baroque technique with good teachers and finding that this "first passion" (organ) was just lying in wait through all those years of singing and teaching voice.

Other than learning new Renaissance to Contemporary repertoire, and teaching voice privately and at Amherst College, Rod has just purchased a house in Greenfield and is dying to get into the garden. Anyone want to help? He is

NEED A SUB?

Not the boat kind, not the sandwich kind, but the "I need a weekend off" kind. Springfield AGO member, John Anderson, has established a subbing website for himself and others. It can be reached by typing in: www.SpringfieldAGO.org and selecting the item "Sunday Substitutes."

The screen shot at right should give you some idea what to expect when you get there. This should be a big help in easily getting coverage for yourself when you need it. It will become an even better tool, as you, the members, start signing in and letting the rest of us know of your availability. To get on the list, contact John Anderson by phone (567-9453) or e-mail (john.anderson@bigfoot.com), and get a login name and password. That's all there is to it! Oh yes, enjoy your day off.

First Church, Deerfield Organ Dedication

On April 25, 2004, The First Church of Deerfield, Old Deerfield, welcomes all to attend the Worship and formal Organ Dedication Service at 10:00 a.m. at the church. Thomas Pousont, organist and Director of Music Ministries, and the Meetinghouse Choir will provide the music at this morning service.

At 3:00 p.m., on April 25, William Porter, distinguished organist and recitalist, will present a Dedicatory Recital on the newly installed Opus 13 built by Richards & Fowkes Co., Ooltewah, Tennessee. His program will include: works by Johann Sebastian Bach, including the Passacaglia, Sonata in D by Felix Mendelssohn, new works by Daniel Aune and Kola Owolabi, and some improvisations of which he is a master. Following the recital there will be a reception in the Lobby of the Memorial Building at Deerfield Academy. This program is free and open to the public. Come and celebrate this wonderful instrument built for the glory of God.

(Editor: This significant, new instrument in our area was given a feature article in the December 2002 Chiff Chat. The organ was played and heard by several of our chapter members, friends, and members of neighboring chapters, as part of our October 2003 chapter event. An article on that event was included in the October 2003 Chiff Chat. If you do not have these past issues, they are available online at the chapter website: www.SpringfieldAGO.org. Elizabeth Dawson is the organist and choir accompanist at the United Church of Bernardston. Prior to her position at the United Church of Bernardston, she sang in the choir at Greenfield's Second Congregational Church for many years. She studies organ with Grant Moss.

Two of her original piano pieces are included on the CD "Songs of the System", a collection of music celebrating the Centennial of the National Wildlife Refuge System. She has a degree in Architecture from Carnegie-Mellon University and an MBA from the University of Massachusetts. She works as an Architect for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. She served on the Greenfield Planning Board for three years and chaired the Board for one year.

Michael-Thomas Gilman is a native of Monson, and currently Organist-Choirmaster of United Congregational Church in Holyoke. He is a graduate of UMass and of Yale. Hobbies are travel, eating good food, and taking naps. He is just finishing up production of a six-cd retrospective of the organ and choral performances of Dr. Robert S. Baker for Yale University. Michael lives in Monson with his terriers Spark and Scout.

Cindy Morrell has been involved in church music since joining the Angel Choir early in her elementary school years. Early work under Marjorie Long and then under Barbara Conant shaped her choral singing. She moved from piano to organ lessons in junior high with Barbara Conant and continued with lessons through her years at Mount Holyoke with Myrtle Regier. She accompanied senior high worship services during those four years. She has been serving as a "substitute" or summer organist since high school at Center Church in South Hadley and branched out to other substitute jobs in later years. She was named Associate in Music at Center Church two years ago. Both she and her husband sing in the Center Church choir. In her other life, she is a senior administrative assistant in physics and astronomy at Mount Holyoke. She has also been very active in volunteer work for MHC, serving as a class president, a class agent and in various position in her local alumane club. She has also served on a number of her church's committees.
